New Prosperity Epoch to Start States Minister

Hon. H. H. Stevens, in Optimistic Address at Montreal, Points Out That Conditions in Canada Do Not Justify Undue Pessimism—People Justified in Maintaining Confidence in Future

MONTREAL, Oct. 22 (CP).—A message of confidence and optimism was brought to a Canadian Manufacturers' Association banquet here tonight by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. Prosperity, based on more permanent structures than those which had collapsed in the hectic days of 1928 and 1929, awaited the country in the new epoch which opens next year, he declared.

The minister was given an eager hearing as he pointed to certain facts and figures to support his conviction that optimism was justified. He hoped these figures would be by way of contrast with the constant comparisons published on the financial pages of daily newspapers which, he said, depicted little but the worst side of conditions.

SEES SILVER LINING

Things were undoubtedly bad at present, but there was a silver lining, the minister stated. His purpose was to seek to instill confidence in the country, in the people and in the future, for confidence was needed today throughout the world, more so than any other element in the human make-up. There was a great deal of apprehension rife. There was a lack of trust apparent, unfortunately and decidedly, unnecessarily.

A genuine effort to stimulate internal business is liable to bring more definite results than efforts spent in external trade, Hon. Mr. Stevens declared.

WARM WELCOME GIVEN M. LAVAL

French Premier in Washington to Confer With President Hoover

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 22 (CP).—Swinging an ivory-handled cane, His Excellency Pierre Laval, president of the Council of the Ministers of France, stepped from the train at Union Station into Washington sunshine this afternoon. M. Laval was greeted by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Ambassador Pétain of France, and fifty military salutes and raised top hats.

Striding down the platform, the man who has come to take the place of the late Georges Clemenceau, was an imposing figure. He conversed gravely with Mr. Stimson and Paul Claudet, France's poet ambassador to the United States.

MANY QUESTIONS

Behind the scene at the station lay difficult and delicate international questions—gold, disarmament, war debts and reparations. But for the moment, these forgotten, even by the score of journalists who, as watchdogs of French public opinion, followed the sovereign from France to Washington.

The hundreds assembled on the station platform applauded, the band blared the "Marseillaise" as though it had performed in Paris for years. The shiny black limousines with the French Premier, his staff and host, were whirled away to the home of United States and foreign correspondents he would discuss with President Hoover all matters affecting the world today.

REMAINS SILENT

He disarmed pointed queries by saying he had not yet formally started conversations with the "Maison Blanche," and he preferred not to discuss security, war debts, reparations or gold.

In response to an inquiry from a Canadian correspondent, the Premier of France said he had received an invitation to visit the Dominion. He said he regretted that circumstances prevented his acceptance. He would like to have gone to Canada and to bring a message of cordial good will from France.

AVIATION RESTS WITH DOMINION

Judicial Committee of Privy Council Decides Control Is Exclusively Federal Matter

LONDON, Oct. 22 (CP).—Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today allowed appeal of the Dominion Government of Canada against a decision of the Supreme Court of Canada on the reference of the question of whether the Dominion or the provincial authorities have jurisdiction over aviation matters in Canada.

The Supreme Court had decided the Dominion may control such aeronautical matters as are involved in international affairs and such aerial activities as the Dominion itself engages in; but ruled the provinces had jurisdiction to control and legislate on aviation matters within their own boundaries.

The supreme tribunal today, however, upheld the Dominion Government's contention to supreme jurisdiction over aviation matters in Canada. "Their Lordships' decision incidentally upheld the validity of Dominion aeronautical legislation which had been challenged by the provinces.

Arrives at Washington

PREMIER Pierre Laval of France arrived at Washington yesterday to confer with President Hoover on matters of world importance. No definite subjects have been announced. This photograph was taken on the Premier's estate in France.

Insurance Laws To Be Redrafted To Meet Ruling

Judgment of Privy Council Creates Necessity for Framing New Legislation to Establish Right of Dominion to License Companies and Impose Taxes on Premiums

OTTAWA, Oct. 22 (CP).—Redrafting of sections of the Insurance Act of Canada and the Special War Revenue Act may follow the decision of the Privy Council handed down in London today on the Dominion Insurance Act. This is the opinion held tonight by law officers of the Government.

DEATH CALLS

DR. RICHARDS Popular Dental Surgeon Dies Today After Long Illness

Dr. B. C. Richards, age forty-three, of 1000 Craigdarroch Road, passed away at an early hour this morning after a prolonged illness.

Son of former Sheriff Richards, Dr. Richards was well known and highly respected in this city. He was prominent in the affairs of the dental profession and was also active in fraternal and civic circles.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and a member of the Pacific Club and the Woodlawn Golf Club.

As a sportsman he took an active part in many golf tournaments, while gun and rod also attracted him. He was one of the few out-of-town members of the New Seattle Athletic Club.

Dr. Richards had been engaged in the dental profession here since 1914, occupying offices in the Arcade Building with Dr. E. H. Griffiths.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a brother, Dr. R. Richards, of New York.

CLAIMS COMPENSATION

REGINA, Oct. 22 (CP).—Hearing of Saskatchewan's claims to compensation for alienations of natural resources since 1905 will commence shortly before a Federal commission. Premier J. T. M. Anderson made this announcement today. He stated that no decision had been made as to who would represent the province before the commission.

CHINA NOT SATISFIED

The Brundage resolution, which is the council's formula for dealing with the Manchurian crisis, also was attacked by Dr. Alfred Sze, China's spokesman, who said it fell short of his Government's desires and asked for time to seek instruction from Nanking.

Since neither of the parties to the conflict approved the resolution, the council adjourned until tomorrow afternoon, when public debate on the problem will be resumed. M. Briand had announced the terms of his resolution were subject to modification in public debate.

AT CALL OF CHAIRMAN Although suggesting that the next council session convene November 16, M. Briand proposed that the council president be authorized to call a meeting earlier if he believed it desirable.

The Brundage programme—product of many hours of labor in private—not only called on Japan to complete evacuation by a fixed date but also requested the Japanese and Chinese Governments to enter into direct negotiations to arrange the details of the troop withdrawal.

HOMING PAIR MAKING GOOD FLYING TIME

Lindberghs Reach Wyoming Town and Spend the Night There

LARGE CROWD HERE TO WATCH TAKE-OFF

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Oct. 22 (AP).—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here at 6:50 o'clock this afternoon, and announced they will remain here overnight. The Lindberghs landed at an airport two and a half miles from the city and their presence was not immediately known. They had not been expected to stop here and only airport employees were at the field when they landed.

Some confusion resulted a few minutes later when it was learned the Lindbergh plane had landed. Another ship took off and spectators believed Colonel Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh had departed.

Colonel Lindbergh said his plans for tomorrow were indefinite. He said he probably would leave early in the morning for the East, but had set no exact time for his departure.

LEFT AT DAYBREAK

Poised for its projected flight across a continent, from Victoria on the Pacific seaboard to distant New Jersey on the Atlantic side, as the light of early morning flooded the surface of abandoned Lansdowne airfield, Aviator Lindbergh, whom nations have delighted to honor and multitudes worship as much for his entire lack of affectation as for his exploits in the air and contributions to the advancement of aviation, sat in the pilot's seat of the big Lockheed monoplane, eagerly waiting for the motor to register the condition necessary to assure a graceful and easy take-off from the ground.

CITY TO HAVE COURT FINES

Important Ruling Given by Privy Council in Favor of Toronto

LONDON, Oct. 22 (CP).—The long-standing dispute between the Province of Ontario and the city of Toronto, as to which was entitled to the fine of $50,000 paid by Amelius Jarvis in a case arising out of sale of bonds, was finally settled today when the judicial committee of the Privy Council allowed the appeal of the city.

SUPPORTED CITY

Their Lordships' decision today supports the ruling of the Ontario Court of Appeal, which had decided by a three-to-two vote in favor of the Province. The Dominion Government took a hand in the battle, supporting the city's case because Federal jurisdiction provides, concerning Ontario, that fines and penalties shall be paid over to the municipalities where the municipal liabilities bear the expense of administering the law. The Privy Council decision therefore incidentally upholds the validity of the Dominion legislation.

TO STUDY JUDGMENT

Attorney-General Pooley, informed of the decision of the Privy Council as cited in press dispatches, said he would require to see the text of the judgment in the Ontario-Toronto issues as to the possession of the $50,000 fine paid in the Jarvis case before giving a considered opinion. It appeared probable, however, that the ruling would not affect the result in this province against the city, as the Province itself had started proceedings in that case and would be entitled to the fine of $100,000 paid.

CALGARY 'DRUG STORE EMPLOYEE OVERPOWERS AND CAPTURES BANDIT

CALGARY, Oct. 22 (CP).—Robert Baillie, slender drug store clerk, today overpowered a gunman and broke the wooden butt of his revolver over his head. As a result of the tussle, Frank Gardner is in custody of city police, charged with robbery with violence.

Baillie was alone in the drug store, according to police, when Gardner entered with a revolver drawn. Baillie didn't wait for orders to throw his hands up, but attacked Gardner, grabbed the revolver and hit him over the head with it. Gardner was unconscious on the floor of the store when police arrived.

U.S. Gov't Considers Selective Sales Tax

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP).—The Government is considering a plan of a selective sales tax as a means of raising money to counterbalance its declining income.

While no definite decision has been made as to whether it will be recommended to Congress, experts are carefully combing the field to see what articles could be included.

Populace Desires to Throw Off British Rule of Island

LANARCA, Cyprus, Oct. 22 (CP and AP).—Cyprus tonight was tense as the populace and the British administration awaited the outcome of a possible move during the hours of darkness to carry out an independence movement which last night flamed into riot and was subdued only after police had fired on a mob demonstrating outside Government House.

LED BY BISHOP

An inflamed mob, said to have been led by the Orthodox Greek Bishop of Lanarca and three elected members of the Legislature who had resigned, descended upon Nicola, stormed the police and Government House and finally burned the building to the ground. The police faced the mob, which had got beyond control of its leaders, discharging their firearms into the air as a warning, and finally were forced to fire into the demonstrators.

ART TREASURES BURNED

Following dispersion of the mob, the police tried vainly to save some of the Government's personal belongings and the valuable art treasures in Government House.

The feeling of revolt, which had

WILL GREET TRADE SHIP

Premier Bennett's Welcome to Australian Good-Will Vessel to Be Broadcast

MONTREAL, Oct. 22 (CP).—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, will tomorrow night extend a welcome to the Australian good-will ship, Canadian Constructor, that will be heard in Australia, when he will carry on a unique radio-telephone conversation with Capt. E. H. Webb as the steamer nears Montreal, the end of her voyage.

At 8:30 o'clock Captain Webb will speak into a microphone on the bridge, reporting to the Premier in Ottawa the approach of the steamer. Premier Bennett, speaking from his office on Parliament Hill, is expected to congratulate the captain on his successful trip and stress the importance of the newly completed trade arrangements between the two distant parts of the Empire.

TWO-WAY BROADCAST

Premier Bennett's voice from Ottawa will be carried by radio to Drummondville, Que., and from there relayed to the ship. Both the Premier and Captain Webb will be able to hear each other's conversation and the Australian public will hear both speakers through a rebroadcast.

The vessel sailed on September 10 from Brisbane for Montreal. Two kangaroos, gifts from the pineapple growers of Queensland to Canada, are reported to be aboard the steamer. Cargo of this freighter includes wines, raisins, currants, canned pineapples, raw sugar and other tropical and subtropical produce.

CHARGED WITH CHILD'S DEATH

Thomas Oliver Arrested at Vernon on Information From Boy's Mother

VERNON, Oct. 22.—Thomas Oliver, a workman in the BX district near this city, was arrested by Provincial Police this morning on a charge of murdering Vernon Hannah, four-year-old boy.

The child was at first said to have been killed by a tree, which Oliver was chopping down on Thursday afternoon of last week. The child's mother testified to this at the coroner's inquest last Monday.

At the inquest, the mother and Oliver both testified that they had been chopping down a tree together. It split suddenly in the centre, they declared, and in falling in an unexpected direction hit the boy playing nearby. A verdict of accidental death was brought in by the jury, with a rider charging the mother with gross carelessness.

DIES IN PLANE CRASH

CORPUSCANA, Texas, Oct. 22 (AP).—Kenneth Parker, twenty-three, was killed instantly, and Tom Westbrook, thirty-six, was injured seriously when an airplane in which they were riding fell about 200 feet and burst into flames near here late today.

ANOTHER AIRSHIP ORDERED

AKRON, Ohio, Oct. 22 (AP).—The Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation announced today that work on the SZRS-5, sister ship of the Akron, accepted by the navy yesterday, had been under way since July 1. The second ship is expected to be completed early in 1933.

Child Instruction Vital To Canada, Says Premier

OTTAWA, Oct. 22 (CP).—In an inspirational address here tonight, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett spoke of the unconscious influence exercised by teachers in the moulding of Canada as a nation. The Prime Minister addressed some two hundred visiting Toronto teachers, as well as a large number of Ottawa instructors.

"The development of a child's life as it marches through childhood is an important factor in the development of Canada," he declared. "The development of this Dominion rests not with industry nor with populous cities. The advancement of child life is the determining factor in the life of the country, and it rests upon the hope and faith and conscientious belief that the plastic minds under your control can be shaped to influence the destiny of the world."

Responsibilities of teachers today were greater than ever before, Mr. Bennett stated. "You never know what the potential greatness of a child may be," the Prime Minister remarked.

PLANES FAIL TO REACH BAYCHIMO

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 22 (AP).—Two planes, which left here yesterday to take supplies to the steamship Baychimo, locked in the ice south of Point Barrow, had not arrived there today, a message from the ship said. The message added that the weather was bad. The planes were to have brought freight from the ship to be sent outside from here. They previously had removed all passengers.

No fear was felt for the safety of the pilots of the planes today, as it was said they probably landed at Wainwright to await better flying conditions.

Central Europe Is Beseet by Troubles Of Various Types

Bank Failures and Mysterious Attempts to Wreck Trains Scramble for Attention With Royalist Plots and Princess Helene

VIENNA, Oct. 22.—Almost all of Central Europe's favorite preoccupations have burst into the news at once, including bank failures, railway wrecks, monarchist agitations in Hungary and the whereabouts of Princess Helene of Rumania.

1. Marmaroesh, Blank & Co., biggest bank in Rumania and one of the most important in Eastern Europe, has collapsed and will be taken over by the Rumanian Government. The bank's deficit is said to be 1,000,000,000 lei ($400,000,000), with 5,000,000,000 lei ($200,000,000) more needed to reconstruct it.

2. The epidemic of train wrecking is proceeding, with three new outrages reported, but with no casualties. Unknown malefactors put two bombs on the tracks near a bridge at Komorn, Czechoslovakia, hoping to wreck the Budapest-Prague express, and sought to stop the Budapest-Bratislava train by explosive bullets on the rails near Ipolysegy, Hungary, while heavy wooden blocks were found on a minor line from Oradea to Serebia in Hungary.

3. An impressive and politically important ceremony took place yesterday in the Hungarian town of Denesfa, dedicating a chapel to the memory of Hungary's last king, Karl, who landed in an airplane at Denesfa on his ill-fated second putch ten years ago.

4. Where is Princess Helene of Rumania, the unhappy woman who has been the wife and mother of kings and also a daughter of one, but who is not a queen? Central Europe is agitated by the great and comical mystery.

A woman arrived in Prague and registered as Mme. Mathieu from Paris, and was promptly identified as Princess Helene traveling incognito. Officials met her, a police escort was provided, and great attention was shown. Then it was discovered also that Mme. Mathieu was not Princess Helene, but actually a Mme. Mathieu. Prague was embarrassed, so was Vienna, where word had been sent that Princess Helene was to be expected. A police delegation was ready to meet her when the hoax or error was discovered.

Now it is clear that Mme. Mathieu is Mme. Helene, but where is Princess Helene? In Prague, Vienna, Paris, London? Delegations, hal in hand, waiting, are wanting to know.

5. Foreign Minister Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia, in an important speech in Prague, announced his willingness to co-operate with Italy, France and Germany to further his old plan of a Danubian confederation.

6. The first two sections declared it shall not be lawful for any person, whether a natural person or a foreign company, or any British company, to carry on an insurance business in this country unless a license is provided under Sections 65 and 66.

7. The second question of the reference asked by the committee was whether the provisions of the Act in relation to the legal competence of the Parliament of Canada? Would there be a difference between the case of an insurer who has obtained a license to obtain under the provincial law a license to carry on business in the province and in any other cases?

ELDERLY WOMAN STRUCK BY CAR

Mrs. M. Nesbitt Suffers Injury to Hip as Result of Accident on Gorge Road

Serious injuries were sustained by Mrs. M. Nesbitt, an elderly woman residing at 301 Gorge Road, last night when she was struck down by an automobile driven by J. H. Salmon, residing at 1815 Yates Street, according to police.

Mr. Salmon was driving toward the city when the accident happened, it was reported. Mrs. Nesbitt had been to a nearby store to purchase a bottle of milk and was crossing the road to her home when the accident occurred.

The wet pavement absorbed the glow from the car's headlights and it is believed the accident was due to poor visibility.

Mrs. Nesbitt suffered injuries to her hip and cuts about the arm, and was removed to the C. C. Campbell Building, near Parson's Bridge, according to police.

By Constable Percy Cummings, of the Saanich police, and after the arrival of Dr. A. C. Sinclair the woman was removed to the C. C. Campbell Building to the Jubilee Hospital for treatment.

INSURANCE LAWS TO BE REDRAFTED TO MEET RULING

declared invalid by reason of being improperly worded. The right of the Dominion to enact proper legislation requiring Canadian, British and alien companies to obtain a license from the Minister of Finance to do business, imposing fines for such companies operating without a license, and the insurance and taxing premiums paid to unlicensed insurance companies, has not been decided against by their lordships, all officers believe.

Of the right of the Dominion authorities to claim premiums paid to unlicensed insurance companies through properly-framed legislation, the lordships are in doubt. The belief is also expressed that for the purpose of uniformity in the several provinces of operation of the federal or provincial insurance business, the Dominion has authority to require that any Canadian, British or alien company, whether holding a federal or provincial charter, must first obtain a license.

FENALTY SECTIONS

The phraseology of the licensing sections in all probability, even if the goddess of luck did happen to fly with the young aviator, perched on a plume of the man-made bird named the Spirit of St. Louis.

BECAME FAMOUS

Success is an accomplishment in the air as well as on the ground, and Lindbergh did not fail; and because of that his name became a household word where recognition of aviators are cherished, linked with those of the Wright Brothers, first to fly; with Alcock and Brown, first to fly the Atlantic; and with Kingman, first to fly the Atlantic in a non-stop hop; with Kingman-Smith, placed by many as the greatest flyer of his time, and with other great aviators.

Although Lindbergh's flight over the Atlantic was probably the most spectacular event ever accomplished in the air, he never assumed the role of the stunt flyer, nor has he occasioned any damage there, even to affect his bump of good sense. He has endeavored to go quietly about his business, assisting materially in the progress of aviation to the best of his ability, and to the best of his flying good will ambassador on several occasions, first in connection with flights to the republics of Central and South America, and was engaged in a more ambitious tour around Pacific countries when the passing of Mrs. Lindbergh, his wife, Hon. Dorothea, on Monday, made it necessary to abandon the tour shortly after the arrival of the flying couple in China.

IMPRESSED JAPANESE

The arrival of the Lindberghs at the other side of the Pacific, after the flight across Northern Canada, Alaska and Bering Sea, was the occasion for many receptions on the part of the Japanese people, who according to accounts in the press of that country, were greatly impressed with the modesty of the celebrated flyer and his charming wife, leaving Japan, the Lindberghs arrived near to the famine-stricken region of Northern China, shortly after the great flood had occasioned much damage there, immediately placing his plane and himself at the disposal of the Nanking authorities for any THE BLANK CHEQUE POLICY

The Labor Party in Britain is campaigning in the present election contest against the National Government on the ground, among other things, that it has asked for a blank cheque to deal with emergent conditions. The claim is made that this is contrary to democratic Government. In other words, Labor insists that it is wrong for any Government, without a specific mandate, "to infuse new life into the constitution to enable it to bear its infirmities." That party wants to rule itself while bowing to the dictates of the Trades Union Congress, a condition which would be far more removed from democracy than what is proposed on behalf of the National Administration. Owing to the present economic conditions it would have been impossible for the National Government to define, at this time, what plans must be achieved to right the situation that has arisen. They must depend largely on the course of events even if, in general outline, they are known at the present time. Before the present Government in Britain decided on its appeal to the country the course which it was inevitable that it should pursue was outlined by The London Times in a prophetic way. That paper on September 30, said:

"His (Mr. MacDonald's) policy can be nothing less and nothing more than an appeal for a free hand to take whatever measures a dangerous and uncertain future may require; and those measures can be broadly specified. They must, in the nature of things, include the power to use tariffs selectively—not emergency tariffs in the sense of tariffs unlimited by anything save their duration, but tariffs to be applied in whatever way may lead to the restoration of the balance of trade and to the power of British industry to prosper without profiteering. They must include the maintenance of retrenchment in public expenditure as the one static element in the balancing of this and future budgets, and therefore the best protection of every wage, benefit, gift, pension and income in the country. They must include the pledge to further, so far as a British Government can, that better organization of the world's credit system, that freer exchange of the world's goods, and that relief from the paralyzing influence of international debts which are the bane of all parties, but which only the foolish can definitely promise to achieve. A wide and general policy of this kind is not undemocratic; indeed, democracy cannot survive unless in an emergency it is willing to trust its leaders. . . . Altogether, if the Prime Minister appeals to the country now as a national leader, he may be certain that the onus of having preferred party interests to the interests of the country will rest not upon himself but upon all who oppose him."

EDUCATION AND CRIME

Why crime is increasing in the United States, while in almost every other country where mass education prevails it is decreasing, is due to the lack of sober effort to inculcate strong moral principles in American schools. This is the opinion of Dr. G. W. Parmelee, the late director of Protestant education in Quebec. In Europe, he points out, education has "some definite national ideals and purpose." In England the purpose of the public schools "is to produce men of distinct moral training controlled by certain maxims of honesty and fair play." Out of every million persons in the United States there are 87 homicides annually, whereas in Germany there are 22, in France 12 and in England 7. The trouble, according to Dr. Parmelee, is that in the United States the purpose in education has never been clearly defined. Here is his comment: "They consider that if they govern themselves, then the pupils should govern the schools, and about half the schools of the States simply scorn the idea of discipline, and the pupil determines for himself the course of study he wishes to undertake, with the result that the boy in the American secondary school is about two years behind the English boy at the same stage. As a professor of Columbia University said, the high schools of the States do a great deal for their pupils, but they do not educate them. They have set in contrast the ideals of discipline and freedom, and this affords the reason why crime in the States under the influence of mass education is not decreasing, and why these methods are condemned by the best-thinking people in that country."

THE LINDBERGH

It is a pleasurable conception that so many people should have thought it worth their while to rise early yesterday morning to see Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh take off on their flight across the continent to their home. Hero worship is an inherent quality which no amount of materialism can eradicate. Colonel Lindbergh has had his share of the adulation which follows the performance of a great feat, and it may be said of him that he has not rested on the laurels of his Atlantic flight, but has ever been on the quest for new aerial adventures. He has, indeed, established a new record in aviation, in that his wife accompanies him on his flights. The interest in the flying duo is greater than that accorded to any other aerial adventurers because of the glamor of achievement with which Colonel Lindbergh originally invested himself. In other words, his wife shares a reflected glory; perhaps something more, because she is herself an expert aviator and willing and able to endure such hardships as the pair encountered during their recent flight across the Pacific, via the Aleutian and Kurile Islands.

So long as the human race accords the credit that is due to human achievement of a high order, whether in courage, endurance, invention, statesmanship, or, in fact, in anything that benefits or sets a glowing example to humanity, there is cause for pride in the traditional maintenance of the soundness of the progress of civilization. Popular acclaim for such as Colonel Lindbergh is a tribute to personality, and personality is that which enables men and women to rise above the dead level of their environment. Paradoxical as it may seem, it is an undoubted fact that because aviation is a new science it has many heroes. It is crowded with pioneers—Hawker, Brown, Alcock, Lindbergh, Kingsford Smith, Mollison, Oribe, Stainforth, Post, Gatty, Pangborn, Herndon, Miss Amy Johnson, Miss Winnifred Spooner, Doolittle, Eckner, and scores of others, not to mention the hundreds of air heroes of the Great War. Possibly most notable of all are the names of Wilbur and Orville Wright, the men who above all others made flying possible. The present day heroes of the air owe what they have been able to accomplish to the Wright brothers. This is the fact so often forgotten in the ever-recurring new conquests of the air.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

If a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.—Gospel of St. Mark.

In the province of Ontario and in the county of Middlesex there used to be a prominent landmark locally known as Sifton's Cut. We suppose Sifton's Cut is still there it used to be, for it was made on the right of way of the old Great Western Railway, connecting Hamilton, Ontario, with Windsor, Ontario, and with Detroit, Michigan, with connections with the main line of the railway systems of the United States. The old Great Western Railway, although it was but a small thing compared with the railways of this day, was one of the best constructed and operated pieces of road in Canada or on the American continent. It is now part of the Canadian National Railways, and no doubt modern locomotives, pulling modern trains, are still puffing through historical Sifton's Cut.

Sifton's Cut cut its way through Sifton's Farm, and Sifton's Farm was the first seat of the historical Sifton family, whose members have cut a considerable figure in the political history of Canada. The Sifton Farm must have proved too large for the development of the brains and energies of the Sifton family, for the head of the family moved to the part of Canada then known as the Northwest Territories and immediately began to cut a considerable figure in its new environment. In the board or big room of The Manitoba Free Press there is a big picture of the elder Sifton. The elder Sifton did not establish The Manitoba Free Press, but he obtained possession of it, and through that great and powerful organ of public opinion became a dominant political power not only in Manitoba and all the Northwest, but ultimately extended his power into the wider Dominion domain.

The Siftons were all Liberals by profession of political faith. Clifford Sifton, who was created Sir Clifford Sifton in the benighted times of Imperialism in British honours and titles, by the force of his personality became one of the leaders of Liberalism in the West, and ultimately a member of the Laurier Government. As Minister of the Interior in that Government he made a great reputation and a vast deal of money. He did not make his money out of politics, of course; he made it out of his almost uncanny business acumen and his genius for taking occasion by the hand. But Sir Clifford's masterful personality sometimes rebelled against the apparently disciplinary powers necessarily exercised by a great and successful political leader. The Minister of the Interior disagreed as a matter of principle with Premier Laurier on some matter of policy and he left the Government, and in course of time played a not unimportant part in the defeat of the Government.

The mantle of the great Sifton has fallen upon the shoulders of Mr. Harry Sifton, who seems to be a worthy son of a worthy father, and doubtless is worthy of the description given him in the press dispatches as a leading Liberal of Toronto. True to the traditions of the family, Mr. Harry Sifton is a shrewd judge of political leadership, and he does not believe that the Liberal party at the present time is blessed in its leadership. At the Liberal gathering in London, Ontario, which is only a mile or two distant from Sifton's Cut, Mr. Harry Sifton demanded the right, or if not the right, the privilege, of addressing the faithful and true after Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King had finished addressing them. But the chairman of the meeting, knowing that when Mr. King speaks, his speech will be so long that there will be no time left for anybody else to speak, whatever he may have to say, refused the request of Mr. Sifton.

Possibly there may have been a suspicion in the mind of the chairman of the meeting that the speech Mr. Sifton wanted to make would not be likely to promote harmony in the already insurgent ranks of Liberalism. Mr. Harry Sifton was not permitted to speak out in meetings, but he said what he wanted to say through the columns of the newspapers, which are always eager to print opinions or news of a sensational character. We are almost sure that The Manitoba Free Press, which can be depended upon to be strongly anti-Conservative and more strongly anti-Protection, if it cannot always be depended upon to be pronouncedly pro-Liberal, printed Mr. Sifton's suppressed speech in full.

Mr. Sifton, in the speech he was forbidden to deliver but found a way of delivering, declared emphatically that the Liberal party of Canada is in the position it is today because of supine and blundering leadership. Although we have often said the same thing, and incurred the censures of many Liberal friends for saying it, owing to an unfortunate disposition for taking the part of the underdog we cannot help but say that on this matter our sympathies are with Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King. The motives of the Siftons have never been above suspicion. The Sifton attack upon Mr. King for his attitude towards what is known as the Beulah scandal and the acceptance by the late Liberal Government of an immense campaign fund from the promoters of that enterprise would have carried more weight if the Sifton family had not been interested in another enterprise of a like character. That is in the construction of a power and irrigation canal from Hudson Bay to somewhere on the St. Lawrence River. If Mr. King in his speech used a great many words and wasted much time in saying nothing that strengthened his position, we do not believe the underdog speech of Mr. Sifton will have the effect of deposing Mr. King from the leadership of the Liberal party and putting his critic in that position.

made to the deaf and the blind. We hope this does not imply that the deaf and the blind are to be educated at the same institution. This error was made with the conducting of several schools in the United States, and in some instances it has taken almost a century to bring about a complete separation of the two departments. There is absolutely no connection between the deaf and the blind from the educational standpoint. Each should have its own superintendent, especially trained for that particular line of work.

As has been mentioned previously, the Saskatchewan institution now takes care only of deaf pupils, those bereft of sight being sent for training at the Ontario School for the Blind at Brantford, Alberta and Manitoba also send their blind children to Brantford. All enlightened governments on this continent provide education for the deaf and the blind in strictly separate environments under independent administrative heads.

The Rhyming Optimist
 By Aline Michaels

BECAUSE
 I love you, without doubt, because
 I love the sun;
 And to my mind the light and you
 Are seen as one.

The sunlight on a palace wall
 Is not more bright
 Than when it rests where poverty
 Has placed its blight.

And so with you when living seems
 Too good and grave,
 Still through its lack as through its joy
 Your heart is brave.

Your love as fondly, truly rests
 On lives obscure
 As on those favored ones who go
 In ways secure.

I love you, without doubt, because
 I love the sun;
 And to my mind the sunlight's glow
 And you are one.

MUSICIANS' BALL
 Sir.—In reference to Mr. Hart's letter re Remembrance Day, we wish to say that in deference to the noble sentiments so ably expressed by Mr. Hart, the Musicians' Union has put forward the day of its ball to Thursday, November 5, 1931.

THE BLIND AND THE DEAF
 Sir.—The growing sentiment of noteworthy educational authorities against any government providing co-education for deaf and blind children in a single school is such as should prompt the Department of Education at Victoria to take steps for the division of the blind from the deaf at the Provincial School in Vancouver.

Why should the dual system be persisted in when it does not at all fit into the educational scheme of the province? Both classes of afflicted pupils get little benefit under such an arrangement, and that doubles the handicaps of the Vancouver school graduates when they step out into the workaday world. Another educator of no little merit who frowns in unmistakable manner upon the dual system is Ignatius Bjorlee, superintendent of the Maryland School for the Deaf and governor of the Maryland District of the Rotary Club. Mr. Bjorlee was asked in 1928 to pass his judgment on Bill 79 (Saskatchewan), and he said: "The dual system is a phase of that ill that he said: 'Throughout the bill reference is Pabst Opera Company.—This company is playing to large houses in Portland and will be here early next week. Their advance agent arrived last night from the railway works above, having encountered the same fate as the Chinese. Only two camps showed any resistance, and these were soon brought to reason the collectors threatening to take their blankets, knives and other belongings.

Lost and Found.—A. H. Meldrum found two little children asleep in a field last evening, after some difficulty he discovered their parents and took the little sleepers home.

Around.—The steamer Western Snow ran around on the bar below Parris Landing the day before yesterday. Captain Irvine, with the steamer William Irvine, went to her rescue and soon had her afloat.

THREE ARTISTS MUCH APPLAUDED

Miss Nora Jones, Mrs. Ogretta McNeil and Dudley Wickett Entertain Musical Arts

Three accomplished Vancouver Island musicians furnished the October programme of the Musical Arts Society presented at the Shrine Auditorium on Wednesday afternoon. It was a charmingly arranged programme of choice compositions, and Miss Nora Jones, contralto; Dudley Wickett, baritone, and Mrs. Ogretta McNeil, pianist, presented the material in a very musicianly manner, the last-mentioned artist being accorded a particularly cordial reception after her long absence from the concert platform here.

Miss Nora Jones, who possesses a voice of warm and sympathetic quality, opened the programme with two Schubert numbers, "The Wanderer" and "Fishers' Song" and Quilter's "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal," and later she gave groups which included Handel's "Where'er You Walk," "Secrecy" (Wolf), and Kaunt's "The Sleigh." Dudley Wickett has a polished style and a voice of splendid timbre. His contributions included Arne's "Come Away, Death," an old English folk song, "Two Grenadiers," Peel's "Summer Time on Brendon," "Nancy's Hair" (traditional), and "Galloping Dick" (Fletcher).

A virile and authoritative style with abundant technique to support her work, is more than ever a characteristic of Mrs. McNeil's playing, and she was enthusiastically applauded after her brilliant and imaginative performance of Schubert's "Impromptu in B Flat" and the Chopin "Ballade in G," with which she brought the delightful afternoon's programme to a close.

BROOM FACTORY IS WORKING AS USUAL

During the present week, several salesmen from the Mainland have been operating in Victoria, offering brooms for sale, purporting to be the output of the broom factory for the blind at Vancouver, which they tell the housewife has been closed down for lack of patronage, with a large stock of ready-to-sale brooms on hand. They were offering the brooms at double the price charged for the same article in local retail stores, depending upon the sympathetic appeal to dispose of the brooms at the advanced price. As the methods of doing business employed by these salesmen borders on the obtaining of money under false pretences, the police are putting a stop to their activities. The broom factory, it is stated, is run at full blast, with all its employees working as usual.

RINK IS NOW IMPROBABLE

Chamber of Commerce Dis-pairs of Getting One
Started This Winter

The prospect of having an ice rink in the city this winter is not very bright. The committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has had this matter in hand met yesterday morning, when a letter was read from W. H. Mearns, secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, embodying the position of that organization with respect to the conversion of the Horse Show Building as requested at the former meeting.

The letter from Mr. Mearns expressed agreement with the exhibition grounds as a site for a rink, but the opinion was expressed that the present time was not favorable for approaching the public to raise funds for the purpose.

This communication was not regarded as quite satisfactory to the members of the committee. The inquiry which had been made of the agricultural association directors was understood to have been whether the exhibition management would be agreeable to co-operating in a plan for the conversion of the present Horse Show Building into a rink; and in addition what would be the attitude of that body with regard to the costs incurred. It had been hoped that the association would say whether it would, if agreeable to the conversion of the building, share in the capital cost and take a share in the profits or agree to take a rental.

ASK PARTICULARS
The letter was interpreted as meaning that the association was not in favor of converting the Horse Show structure, but was agreeable to the erection in course of time of a rink separate from it on the grounds. The association will be asked to make plain its position on the subject.

In the meantime the committee will communicate with the various supply houses, which submitted figures as to the cost of equipment for a rink under the plan of conversion of the Horse Show Building, and advise that it is not possible to go ahead with the work just now. It was felt that in any event there would not be time to get a rink opened for this winter.

Joseph Patrick informed the committee yesterday that the Horse Show Building had some serious defects to prevent its being converted into a hockey rink, such as the presence of posts throughout the floor space. He did not favor the site of the exhibition grounds as the best for getting attendance. He would rather proceed with the getting of a central site for a rink.

C. P. Hill did not favor the starting on a scheme that would supply only a skating rink. He wanted one where hockey could be played which would materially aid in the financing of the rink.

A. Carmichael, chairman of the committee, was of the opinion that the conversion of the Horse Show Building into a skating rink, which would be possible for amateur hockey, but not for professional, and which would afford double the seating capacity of the building at the present time, could be carried out at a cost of about $40,000.

The committee adjourned to meet at the call of the chair.

PRETTY WEDDING HELD AT SIDNEY

Miss Elizabeth Smethurst Becomes
Bride of Mr. George Wardle, of Saanich Bay

SIDNEY, Oct. 22.—St. Andrew's Church, Sidney, was the scene of a charming ceremony on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Rev. T. M. Hughes officiated at the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Smethurst, of Windy, near Wigan, Lancashire, England, and Mr. George Edward Wardle, of Saanich Bay Road, formerly of Innisfail, Alta.

PRETTY DECORATIONS

The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn foliage, gladioli and dahlias. The guest pews were indicated by sprays of flowers.

Entering the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," the bride, accompanied by her brother, Mr. J. Smethurst, who gave her in marriage, was a lovely picture in her wedding gown of powder blue georgette, the skirt of which fell in graceful folds to the floor, the bodice being relieved by a dainty coat of arms. She wore a beautiful black picture hat, and her only ornament was a crystal necklace. She carried a beautiful sheaf of Madonna lilies and maidenhair fern.

Miss Marjorie Smethurst, niece of the bride, was the bridesmaid. She was becomingly attired in an ankle-length frock of floral crepe de Chine in tones of mauve and salmon-pink, with which she wore a picture hat of mauve mohair and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and fern.

Mr. S. Arrowsmith, who is the business partner in the firm of Wardle & Arrowsmith, supported the bride, and Mr. W. W. Davis and Mr. G. Barber.

During the signing of the register, appropriate organ selections were played by Mrs. B. Deacon. The bride and groom left the church to the strains of the "Lohengrin" Wedding March.

RECEPTION HELD

A largely-attended reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Smethurst, East Saanich Road. The reception room was suitably decorated for the occasion. The happy couple were assisted in receiving their guests by Mrs. J. Smethurst, smartly attired in a frock of navy blue flat crepe with hat en suite and corsage of roses and fern.

The bride cut the cake at a table decorated with sweet peas and violets. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. T. M. Hughes, and was responded to by the groom.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wardle left for the Sound cities, where the honeymoon will be spent. For her going-away costume the bride chose a grey traveling suit with black velvet hat.

Among the numerous wedding gifts was a case of silver from the teaching staff of the George's Church of England Infants' school, Wigan, Lancashire, England, of which the bride is a member.

Nanaimo Native Daughters Hold Hallowe'en Ball

The annual Hallowe'en ball given by the Native Daughters, Post 2, on Wednesday evening in the Odd Fellows' Hall, was most successful. The hall was decorated in the usual Hallowe'en fashion, with witches, stenciled cats and owls, spider webs cleverly woven along with balloons and orange colored morning glories. The banquet room was decorated to match the ballroom. The floor managers were Gerald Berry and Peter Macfee. The supper was served at midnight, with British Columbia grapes and other fruits forming the centerpiece of the artistically appointed table.

Successful event will benefit the nursery in Nanaimo Hospital, which is part of the local post's work.

Mrs. James Croxson was general convener, while Gertrude Piper was responser as convener of decorations. Mrs. W. H. Bone and Mrs. Albert Sampson were joint conveners of the supper room decorations.

A spot waltz was a feature of the dance programme which supplied to the guests a real pumpkin filled with chocolates.

"The Seasons of the Church's Year" was the subject of an interesting address given to the members of St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. on Wednesday night in the parish hall, Tennyson Road, by Rev. O. L. An invitation to a dance will be held on Wednesday, November 4, which will take the form of a Hallowe'en masquerade and every effort is being made to make the dance the hit of the winter season.

A meeting of St. Mark's A.Y.P.A. was held in the parish hall on Wednesday, the president in the chair. After the general business, Mr. Jull gave a short but interesting address on the "Signs and Symbols of the Church." The meeting adjourned at 8 p.m., following which refreshments were served. Preparatory to taking part in A.Y.P.A. games, several sets of badminton were played. Volley ball was also played.

MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY THRILL

St. Andrew's Symphony Orchestra Pleases Big Audience With Performance

Over two hundred and fifty lovers of good music attended one of the finest amateur symphony concerts ever to be staged in this city, when the St. Andrew's Symphony Orchestra gave its second performance of the year in the Chamber of Commerce last night.

The strings shows a finish and technique seldom seen or heard in a nonprofessional orchestra, and Jesse Longfield, the conductor, deserves great praise for his ceaseless and successful work with this body.

Mme. Scott-Burritt, Arnold W. Trevel and Frank Spooner, vocalists in the evening's programme, thrilled their audience with their magnificent rendition of world-famous songs.

The musical selections played and sung during the evening were: Overture, "Stradella" (Flotow), "The Pilgrim's Song" (Schubert), "The Shepherd" (Macmurtregh), scenes pittoresques, "Angelus" (Massenet), selections from "The Monk of Eiland" (Van der Vliet), Spanish serenade, "Mandoline" (Eilenberg), "Song of India" (Rimsky-Korsakov), Intermezzo, "In a Persian Market" (Kretschke), "Haymaking" (Allis), pasodoble, "A Song of Melody" (Clegg), "In the Stillness of the Night" (Rachmaninoff), and march, "Coronation" (Eilenberg).

Mrs. C. G. Wain acted as accompanist for the evening.

Harvest Supper

At St. Columba's

In spite of inclement weather, the Burnside Road Hall was filled to capacity on Wednesday evening, when the W.A. of St. Columba's, assisted by members of the recently-organized A.Y.P.A., held its annual harvest supper, over 200 guests being served. The hall was decorated with flowers and autumn foliage, and vases of flowers were arranged on the tables, which were generously laden with good things. Following the supper a programme of vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed, those contributing being Mrs. McIntosh, Miss Ellen Bennett, Miss H. Barr, Mr. W. R. Woods and Mrs. Stapleton; solos, Mrs. Hamley and Rev. F. Conley; recitations and violin selections by George Love. The accompanists for the evening were Miss Stralborne and Maude Foster. Rev. F. Conley was chairman, and at the close of the programme thanked the artists who had so generously responded to repeated entreats and also all who had in any way contributed to the success of the evening.

COLGATE'S SPECIAL DEALS

The Life of Thomas A. Edison

By DAVID WILSON

(Copyright, 1931, by North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

PART IV

In one way, 1869 was the most significant year in Thomas Edison's life. Up to then he had been content to be a telegrapher, fiddling with things electrical and chemical as an amusing sideline. He had no conception, as later events proved, of the financial possibilities growing out of inventions. He might easily have become sidetracked into the frustrated life of a telegraph key. The money was good for those days—he was getting $125 a month when he left Boston—and the work was easy. But it was also dull, and he could not stand dullness.

When he left Boston for New York he was determined never to be a hired telegraph operator again. He walked off the Boston boat at New York without a dime in his pocket, but with a patented idea for a new type of stock ticker, which didn't work very well, but which, he was confident, could be perfected. His mind was all on stock tickers and he made for the central office of the Gold and Stock Telegraph Company, which operated the market wire service of the day.

Borrowed Dollar

Edison's only practical training was as a telegrapher, and the Gold and Stock Company, being a ticker circuit, did not use telegraphers. Edison begged for a job and displayed his drawings of a new ticker, but he got nowhere. He borrowed a dollar so he could eat and sleep in the battery room of the ticker service office.

His third day in New York his dollar was gone and he was hungry. He was almost ready to go over to the Western Union and ask for a job pounding a telegraph key, despite his resolution not to. Then came another of those incidents so frequent in Edison's early life and which look like breaks of fate, but in which a superficial observer cannot help but suspect a young man given to pranks, tricks and inventions may have had a helping hand.

Something went wrong with the Gold and Stock Company transmitter. Messengers from clients came swarming in—it was, of course, long before Edison got around to helping make the telephone a practicable instrument—to report that the tickers weren't working.

FIXED TICKER

Mechanics could find nothing wrong with the transmitter. The manager was tearing his hair. Edison received permission to try to fix the machine.

Immediately, according to his semi-official biographer, he plucked out a contact spring which had fallen into the machine, and the transmitter was ready to go back to work. Edison was hired at $300 a month to supervise transmission.

The spring, supposedly, had fallen out of place accidentally. But Edison had been hanging around the transmitter all morning. Any day, he got the job. He now had an income of $300 a year. He could buy much more laboratory equipment than ever before, for he still refused to waste money on comfort. Night after night he spent in a machine shop he was allowed to use outside of regular hours, often working straight through the night and going directly to work the next morning at his Gold and Stock Company job.

He was scattering his experiments over half a dozen lines, all connected with telegraphy.

BLACK FRIDAY

September 24, 1869, arrived—Black Friday.

Wall Street went wild. So did the Gold and Stock tickers. They could not begin to keep up with the market, any more than the vastly improved tickers of 1929 could keep up with the panic trading in October of that year. The machines kept breaking down. Nerves went smash.

At the end of the day Edison begged a tryout for his new ticker, and one was promised him as soon as the ticker was perfected. It needed the dramatic breakdown of service on that day of strain to win him his first big chance.

Edison drafted Franklin L. Pope, an engineer with better technical training than his own, to help. They speedily perfected the two-wire universal stock ticker, took out a whole series of patents bolstering the one Edison previously had obtained, and in 1870 put the new machine into use.

Of the scores of tickers devised before and in the years immediately following by other inventors, according to Western Union, this is the only one which, in principle, survives today.

SOLD PATENTS

Western Union, by 1870, had acquired stock control of the Gold and Stock Company Ticker, and General Marshall Lefferts, who had been president of the ticker service, was head of the commercial news department of the telegraph company. He opened negotiations to buy the Edison patents.

Edison, still with no sense of values, hoped he might get $5,000. General Lefferts offered $40,000, and the inventor jumped at it. That was a year after he had gone hungry until a friendly telegrapher lent him a dollar, and $40,000 was more money than he had ever expected to see at once.

There are many versions of his first day as a "rich man" stories that he did not know how to cash a cheque until some friend acquainted him with banking practice. It is difficult to believe that even an absent-minded inventor—and Edison was absent-minded in those days as in later years—could be so innocent of ordinary business methods, especially as Edison is known to have had savings accounts before that. Probably the tales are highly exaggerated, on the old theory that any story about Edison is a good story.

Western Union commissioned Edison to manufacture Universal tickers. Edison, with no special love for New York, saw the chance for a

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

ORGANS HELP ONE ANOTHER

I often speak about the heart "reserve," that power the heart has to withstand long or severe illnesses such as typhoid fever, pneumonia or appendicitis.

A few years ago a research physician using the heart muscle of an animal and extracting some juice from it, found that if this juice were injected into another animal, it would strengthen its heart beat. Accordingly, he thought that the heart "reserve" must be something that was actually in the walls of the heart.

However, a little later, another research physician used the juice extracted from other organs than the heart, and found that it had the same effect in strengthening the heart beat as did the juice from the heart muscle.

A few years ago Dr. Minot and Murphy discovered that raw liver would build up worn-out blood corpuscles, and they were thus able to give the world a cure for that formerly incurable ailment—pernicious anaemia. Later it was found that an extract of liver would also cure pernicious anaemia.

Now it has been found that a substance obtained from the stomach walls of an animal, and prepared in the form of a powder, is just as effective in curing pernicious anaemia as liver or liver extract. Dr. E. Schultz, Berlin, tells us that while the powder sometimes disturbs the patient at first—restlessness, intestinal disorders, constipation—that it can be alternated with liver gradually and the patient becomes accustomed to both; thirty grams of the powder being equal to 250 grams of fresh liver.

As we think of these things, that the stomach wall can be used to do the same work as the liver in building up the blood, and that the juice made from the walls of other organs can stimulate the heart muscle, the same as that from the wall of the heart, it makes us realize how wonderfully efficient Nature is in having each organ seem to help all the other organs. It should make us all try to take a more intelligent interest in our bodies.

A story is told of an aged negro who saw an extraordinary-looking instrument in the shop of an optician. He gazed in open-mouthed wonder, and, turning to the optician, inquired:

"What is it, boss?"

"That," replied the optician, "is an ophthalmometer."

"No," muttered the other, his eyes fastened on the thing as he backed out; "ah, dat's what I was afeared it was!"

WALKER TO BE SCHMELING'S NEXT OPPONENT

Alberta-British Columbia to Play Series for Title

Western Senior Grid Semi-Final to Be Decided By Best Two Out of Three Games—Fixture Scheduled for November 4 at Calgary

CALGARY, Oct. 22 (CP).—Falling far behind the Rugby playdown with British Columbia senior champions in a two-out-of-three games series, Alberta Champions, the Calgary Altamonts, are asking for a two-game series in Calgary with total points to count. It was announced here tonight by Andy Naismith, president of the Alberta Rugby Union and Alberta representative on the Western Association.

Outlining the situation with regard to the Western playdowns, Naismith said the Alberta Union first wanted a three-game series, with the dates as November 4, November 7 and November 14. This, he said, would be fair to both teams and give plenty of rest before the third game if it was necessary.

With the Western title match between the winners of the British Columbia-Alberta and Saskatchewan-Manitoba playdowns sought for November, a public holiday, the Alberta Union was now seeking a two-game series with the Coast winners, with total points of the two games to decide the right to enter the Western final. The proposed dates for the two-game series were November 4 and November 7, he said.

Telegrams to this effect were sent today to Dr. E. A. McCusker, Regina, president of the Western Canada Union.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22 (CP).—If Calgary will guarantee the additional expenses to be incurred by a two or three-game series, the British Columbia representatives in the Canadian Rugby League provincial semi-final playdowns will agree to the extended playdown schedule instead of the sudden death game as previously arranged.

This was the decision reached tonight at a meeting of the British Columbia branch of the league in answer to a request from the Prairie city that the semi-final provincial playoffs, to be held in Calgary next month, be extended over the one game limit originally decided upon.

It was pointed out that Calgary had agreed to guarantee the expenses of the Coast team, consisting of eighteen players, for one game, but that if the playdowns were extended to two or three games this would mean an added expense, in that the visiting team would have to remain away from home for five or six days, or longer, and that a larger team would be required for the more strenuous schedule.

The Coast executives were entirely agreeable to extending the game limit, providing increased expenses were guaranteed by their team, and a message was dispatched to the Prairie heads tonight to this effect.

Calgary Is Pessimistic About Entering Team In Coast Ice Hockey

Absence of Artificial Ice Arena Makes Patrick's Statement Doubtful—Edmonton Said to Be Ready to Enter Sextette in League

CALGARY, Oct. 22 (CP).—Just who Frank Patrick, president of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, is going to negotiate with here in respect to a professional hockey team for Calgary remained unknown tonight, and prospects of Calgary's entrance to a professional league were very doubtful.

Necessity of strong financial backing is likely to be the chief drawback for Calgary. There is no artificial ice plant here, which would be necessary to guarantee games being played on schedule. Tricky Chinook winds melted ice frequently last year and caused the amateurs a lot of worries.

Puck enthusiasts are awaiting the visit of Patrick and are anxious to know what his proposals are.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The flaming peak of Algeria—The Koudia de Hoggar, dominated by the rugged massive rock known also as the Peak of Terman, in the Algerian Sahara, glows in the dark long after sunset. Under its soft shimmer, which is a lingering reflection of the light of the setting Sahara sun, the rugged high plateau of the Abougar assumes the appearance of a row of Gothic Cathedral surrounded by natural bell towers, which nature had adorned with delicate lace of stone. The natives firmly believe that the peak is endowed with an inner light of its own, and they referred to the phenomenon in the hushed tones of reverence.

GERMAN CHAMPION AND TOY BULLDOG TO MIX AT MIAMI

Ban on Schmeling to Keep Next Heavyweight Championship Bout Out of New York—Teuton Sailing for United States Within Next Few Weeks—Fighters Dodging Ernie Schaaf

Sharkey After Bout With Jack Dempsey Next Summer

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The old fight fever is welling again in the veins of the faithful, people have taken again to arguing about boxing, and it appears a surprise "bull market" may develop for the heavyweights. There's a ballyhoo man, Jimmy J. Johnston, in the driver's seat again at Madison Square Garden, hell-weather of the boxing flock, for the first time since the death of Tex Rickard and the beginning of the decline three years ago.

Small, dapper, a dark Derby perpetually cocked over one eye, Johnston is a dynamo, born and bred to the fight game, as contrasting a figure as could be compared with the memory of the tall, silent Texan. Their likeness begins and ends with a complete knowledge of the psychology of the paying customers.

Johnston already has started discussing a site for Max Schmeling's heavyweight title defense this winter against Mickey Walker, the former middleweight champion, who held Jack Sharkey to a fifteen-round draw in one of Johnston's personal promotions at Ebbets Field this summer.

SCHMELING WANTS WALKER

The Garden has Schmeling signed for a championship match, and the German, sailing for New York within a few weeks, has nominated Walker as his foe. Johnston wants to take the match to Los Angeles, where the sports enthusiasm for the 1922 Olympics already is stirring, but the Garden also has agreed to stage a heavyweight duel this winter in Miami.

The Boxing Commission ban on Schmeling will keep the bout out of New York. After the proper amount of public discussion, the boys will tussle at Miami, in Florida, if anywhere.

Meanwhile Jack Sharkey, hoping Johnston's dicker with Jack Dempsey will result in another shot at the old champion here, next summer, has withdrawn from the winter picture, nominating Ernie Schaaf, the big blonde he helps manage, as his fighting proxy. "Fight me, fight my boy friend first," is the Sharkey slogan.

None of the young heavyweights seems anxious to do that, but they are mustering for a season that will see more big fellows in action, here than at any time since the death of Rickard.

New York Rangers Buy Doug Brennan From Coast Club

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Purchase of Doug Brennan, big defence man, from Vancouver Lions of the Pacific Coast League, was announced today by New York Rangers, one of the two local representatives in the National Hockey League. Brennan will report to the team during the preseason training in Toronto.

ROUGHRIDERS AND QUAKERS WILL BATTLE

Saskatoon Gridmen Out to Stop Juggernaut of Western Champions

MANITOBA FAVORED IN VARSITY MATCH

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22 (CP).—Saskatoon's fighting Quakers will throw their title hopes on a Regina grid-iron Saturday and try to keep Al Ritchie's steam-rolling Roughriders from pounding them deep into the home town dirt. Standing in the Saskatchewan Rugby Union would be used if Quakers down the hard-hitting Regina, but tonight there are no takers to long odds that the Ritchie men will capture their seventh straight provincial title.

The bid of University of Manitoba for the Western Intercollegiate championship is favored with more support as the big brown squad prepares for battle with Saskatchewan, college champions of the Prairies for two years. Even with Frankie Macdonald out of the line-up with appendicitis, Manitoba is given a chance to beat Saskatchewan.

One of the largest crowds in Rugby history here is expected to watch the intercollegiate clash. Both teams have beaten Alberta.

Western Junior Grid Semi-Final Carded on Nov. 7

REGINA, Oct. 22.—Alberta's junior Rugby champions will receive a bye into the Western final, according to an announcement made by Dr. E. A. McCusker, president of the Western Canada Union, here today.

The playdown calls for the Manitoba champions to play the hope of the Saskatchewan titleholders Saturday, November 7. The winning team in this game will then entertain the Alberta champions in the final on either Armistice Day, November 11, or the next Saturday, November 14, the competing clubs being left to decide the date on which they wish to play.

Calgary and Edmonton are playing a two-game series on October 24 and 31 to decide the Alberta title; Moose Jaw Maroons and Saskatoon Hilltops meet in Moose Jaw on October 31 in the Saskatchewan final, while Winnipeg Native Sons, the present Western champions, are almost certain to represent Manitoba.

Forty-Two Bag Toters To Seek Oak Bay Title

Caddies to Tee Off in Annual Championship at Victoria Golf Club Tomorrow Morning—Draw and Times Released

Forty-two will face starter Phil Taylor in the annual scramble for the caddy championship at the Victoria Golf Club bright and early tomorrow morning over the eighteen-hole mini course under full handicap. For the first time in many years, the defending champion will be on deck with hopes of retaining his crown. G. Bridges, who won the honors twelve months ago, will face the starter.

The bag-toter turning in the best net card will receive the Mullbank Cup, symbolic of the title, for the next year, along with a miniature trophy which he will retain. Phil Taylor, the club's pro, has donated two golf bags to be played for by the women members who act as caddies for the youngsters.

Of the large field seeking the crown, only one caddy will start off scratch, the rest having handicaps. Ken Lawson, one of the finest young players in the city, will tee off without a handicap, and is one of the favorites to lift the title from Bridges' brow.

WOMEN SCORERS
The following women, and their starting times, will act as caddies: 8:45, Mrs. C. E. Wilson; 9:00, Mrs. A. S. G. Musgrove; 9:15, Mrs. Squire; 9:30, Miss W. BRAIN CAPACITY NOT INCREASING

Modern Inventors, Rev. R. Connel Points Out, Are Heirs of the Ages

The brain capacity of men even in primitive times of the race was as great as that of men of the present day, in the opinion of Rev. Robert Connel, who addressed the Rotary Club yesterday at its luncheon meeting on "The Wheel of Life."

This, he pointed out, might seem incorrect in view of the inventions and discoveries of the later days. It must, however, be remembered, said the speaker, that great inventors were the heirs of all the ages.

As bearing out the force of his statement with respect to brain capacity, Mr. Connel referred to the wonderful ingenuity shown by the early Indians, for instance, in the means employed for the capture of fish.

In the address the speaker called attention to the fact that throughout life, in nature and in the great system of the heavenly orbs the circle, or a modified form of it, the curved line, was ever present. With the idea of progress associated with the wheel, while there was general progress there was also present the necessity for a certain part retrograding.

In the realm of evolution this could be borne in mind, and so while there was progress there was also evident a certain amount of retrogression. There were those who believed that the world was not progressing. He was of the opinion that the attention was too often directed to the retrogression rather than the forward movement.

Illustrations of the way in which nature worked out in circles were given by the speaker, basing these upon the eternal change which was continually taking place on the earth system by which continents were wasted, and in turn elevated again in a steady circle of related forms of change.

A fiery-tempered colonel received a letter which enraged him. This was his reply:

"Sir—My stenographer, being a lady, cannot type what I think of you. I, being a gentleman, cannot think it. But you, being neither, will understand what I mean."

Elderly Friend—Going to New Zealand with your husband, are you, my dear? That's one of the countries where they have day when we have night and night when we have day.

Young Wife—Yes. I suppose I shall find it awfully strange at first.

BURSARY WILL BE CONTINUED

Interesting Announcement Is Made at Victoria College Presentations

Announcement that the Walter C. Nichol bursary for the encouragement of the study of French, the funds provided for which came to an end with yesterday's award, would be continued by Mrs. Nichol under the name of the "Quita Nichol Bursaries," amounting to $200 annually, was made by Professor P. H. Elliott, principal of Victoria College, during the annual presentation of prizes and scholarships yesterday afternoon at Victoria High School.

The proceedings were attended by the full student body of Victoria, and the stage was filled with representatives of the Department of Education, the School Board, the college faculty, and the donors of scholarships and bursaries.

The principal speaker of the afternoon was the Minister of Education, the Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, who touched on the problem of finances and the need for the bursary, which had been the subject of the Department of Education this year, although he noted that Victoria College was receiving relatively increased assistance than ever before. He also referred to some of the criticisms against the examination system, but expressed the personal view that there was more to be said for the system than against it.

Professor Elliott gave a short account of some of the outstanding features of the session of 1930-1931, and of the first part of the present session at Victoria College. The enrolment this year was 280 with 200 students in the first year and eighty in the second, the student body being twenty-six more than last year. In addition there were thirty-six students enrolled in the special evening classes for teachers. Special acknowledgment was made of a generous gift of books valued at $100 each for the boy and girl taking the highest place in the matriculation examinations at Victoria College.

The Sunday-school teacher fixed little Bertie with a stern look. "You're a naughty boy," she commenced. "You've been fighting again."

"Couldn't help it this time," teacher, replied the boy.

"But didn't last Sunday's lesson teach you that when you are struck on one cheek you ought to turn the other to the striker?"

"Yes," agreed Bertie, "but he hit me on the nose, and I've only got one."

Donald Gray take the run in Collier's as a serial, the change of scenes, Mr. Gray sings several songs, which are pleasing to the patrons immensely. Next week the G. Donald Gray Co. will offer "The Wolf."

COLUMBIA "The Lion and the Lamb," the Columbia picture, is showing at the Columbia Theatre, is one of the best published literary vehicles. During the three months' run in Collier's as a serial, the installments were broadcast weekly over the N.B.C. network.

DOMINION "Monkey Business" is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. From the moment that Groucho, Chico, Harpo and Zeppo Marx are discovered as stowaways on an ocean liner, carefully concealed in four barrels labeled "Kipper herring," these merry madmen do everything but sink the ship and swim home. At the piano, Chico is still the trigger-fingered expert, regaling audiences with some of his inimitable jokes that have always proved so popular.

CAPITOL A certain Mrs. Murphy Theatre in London can feel that the well-known director, James Whale, remembered her. When the production of "Waterloo Bridge" at the Universal City was opened at the English "fish and chips shop," the art director came to Mr. Whale for the name of the store. "Call it Mrs. Murphy's Fish and Chips Shop," while requested. "I remember having eaten some very good chips there years ago," Mrs. Clarke and Kent Douglas are featured in the picture at the Capitol all this week.

COLISEUM "White Cargo," the all-talking picture, is based on the stage play of the same name, has a unique record in film circles. This is the production which opened at the George M. Cohan Theatre in New York on twenty-four hours' notice and enjoyed a subsequent run of great length. It is a picture which are put on with lengthy advance campaigns. "White Cargo" is now at the Coliseum Theatre.

This is one of the interesting problems in the First National's story of modern business and love, "The Business Girl," starring Loretta Young, which comes to the Coliseum Theatre tomorrow. William A. Selter directed, while the supporting cast includes Frank Albertson, Ricardo Cortez, Frank Darjo, Joan Blondell, Dorothy Christy, Mickey Bennett, Nancy Dover, Oscar Apfel and Virginia Sale.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

MAKING AN EXTRA TRICK
As I have frequently pointed out in these articles, the goal in bidding is the best contract in the combined hands. The goal in play is the making of the final contract. Extra tricks are immaterial if they endanger the making of the contract, and particularly in this true rubber play. However, in play with a duplicate bridge, the scoring of an extra trick may mean the difference between a high and an average score on a hand.

Whenever the extra trick can be obtained with safety, even in rubber play, it should not be ignored, not only because the bonus for the trick is worth while, but also because no player can hope to become an accurate and excellent player if he adopts sloppy methods of play.

The hand below is in no sense spectacular. Play of it is quite routine, and the point illustrated is how to secure an extra trick with no risk of losing the contract.

South—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

South West North East
Pass 1♠ Pass 3♣
Pass 2♠ Pass 4♠
Pass Pass

In the play, North has a particularly undesirable hand from which to lead. Probably the most effective lead, on the basis of results, would be a trump, and with this lead West would be playing to make his contract rather than extra tricks.

On the bidding, however, a trump lead did not appear particularly desirable. Neither did a lead of the heart suit, which had been bid by East. Sentiment is generally against opening from such a weak holding as K J 5, so this estimated the diamond from consideration. North, therefore, chose the four of clubs, and at the table where Theodore A. Lightner was playing West, this gave him an opportunity for a brilliant play. He holds in his hand four diamonds while Dummy has

STEWART FILES APPEAL NOTICE

Communist Sentenced to Two Years to Ask Appeal Court Review

Ronald C. C. Stewart, who was sentenced to two years at the Fall Assizes of the Supreme Court Monday last, for attempting to incite members of His Majesty's Forces to mutiny, and with distributing seditious literature, has filed notice of intention to appeal, it was learned here yesterday.

The grounds upon which he bases his appeal have not been made known, but it is intimated that he will retain counsel to appear on his behalf before the British Columbia Appeal Court.

Persons convicted by a jury have thirty days in which to appeal, and appeals may be based on fact or on law. Application has been made for a copy of the Court's record of the charge of Mr. Justice Murphy to the jury. Hearing will be before the next session of the Appeal Court.

ASK OAK BAY TO MAKE PROVISION FOR BRIDLE PATHS

Headed by Major K. B. Spurgin, a delegation waited upon the Oak Bay Council last evening and urged upon that body the utilization of some of the unemployed services upon the preparation of riding trails about the municipality. Routes suitable for these to connect up with other routes in adjoining municipalities were outlined. F. B. Pemberton, Russell Ker and A. Stewart Clarke also spoke in favor of the project.

Reeve Hayward pointed out that

Hold Fate of Germany

In the hands of these five men a great share of the fate of Germany now rests. Heinrich Brüning (upper right), Chancellor and Foreign Minister, charged with the formation of a new Cabinet, selected Hermann Dietrich (lower left) as Vice-Chancellor and Finance Minister; General Wilhelm Groener (lower right) as Minister of War and Interior, and Dr. Kurt Doering (upper left) as Minister of Justice. If this group of men fall before the Reichstag, Adolf Hitler (centre), National Socialist leader, may take over the reins of government at the request of President Von Hindenburg.

there were objections to having something might be done. He assured the delegation of the fullest consideration of the matter by the council.

BISHOP TO BLESS SCHOOL BUILDING

St. Louis College to Be Scene of Impressive Religious Ceremonies Sunday Afternoon

The solemn blessing of the new building of St. Louis College, on Pandora Avenue, will be given by His Excellency the Rt. Rev. G. C. Murray, Bishop of Victoria, on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The invocation of the Holy Ghost will be sung by the boys' choir outside the front door, and His Excellency will chant prayers, beseeching blessings on all those who enter the building. After this the procession will proceed to the first floor, where psalms will be chanted. Following the ceremony of incensation, the emblem of man's salvation will be blessed and affixed to the wall of the corridor, and after a brief address by the bishop, the consecration will be brought to an end.

All officers of Victoria are cordially invited to inspect this new, typically modern school any time between 3 and 5 o'clock, Sunday or Monday afternoon.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

LADYSMITH, Oct. 22.—Upon the occasion of the twentieth anniversary of her wedding, Mrs. T. Honeyman, of Victoria Road, was greatly surprised on Tuesday night, when over forty of her friends visited her to celebrate the event.

Cards were arranged and the winners were Mrs. S. Guthrie and Mrs. J. Ford. In the novelty contest Mrs. J. Wilson was declared winner.

Mrs. D. Kerr, Mrs. J. Rodger, Mrs. W. Wilson, Mrs. D. Cook and Miss Ella Bauld were an efficient tea committee. Following this Mrs. W. Wilson, after a graceful and poetic speech ably rendered, produced a large pumpkin of local manufacture, which contained a beautiful china supper service. This, with the compliments of the assembled guests, was presented to Mrs. Honeyman, who responded suitably to the congratulations.

She (in a sentimental mood): You know, I'd love a little home of my own.

He: Yes. If you had one we could get married.

Security Prices Slump Heavily At Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP).—Stocks declined slowly today, more because buyers were unwilling to reach for them than because of unfavorable news.

Domestic corporation bonds also sagged with rail heavy. However, both markets were dull, stocks, sales totaling only 1,387,180 shares.

Rails dropped, so did industrial and utilities.

The average loss in stocks was 2.8 points. United States Steel and Bethlehem, on the eve of the semi-annual meeting of the institute at which the industry's affairs are discussed, were off about 2 points net.

American Can, General Electric, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, International Telephone, American and Consolidated Gas lost 2, National Black and Case were down 3. In the rail, New York Central recovered part of a 4-point dip. Atchafalaya yielded 4 and Union Pacific slightly more.

Baltimore and Ohio and Southern Pacific sagged nearly 3.

Sterling dropped to $3.92, compared with yesterday's close of $3.96 1/2 and the final rate was $3.94.

The bond market fluctuated irregularly today.

Domestic corporate issues closed irregularly lower, although some of them scored temporary gains. Liberty and United States Treasury loans were generally higher. Most of the more active issues gained.

SHOW SOFTNESS

Cotton Belt and Premier Gold Advance—Rest unchanged to lower at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22.—Issues in both mines and oils continued to show softness in a session of apathy.

The trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today, the cheaper issues in both divisions continued to hold the light trading interest shown during the day.

Total volume of shares was slightly higher than for the previous session, with 9,540 shares changing hands, compared with 8,100 yesterday.

Cotton Belt regained some of its 15-point loss yesterday when it closed at 15 cents, up 5 cents.

Premier Gold was up 1 cent at 50 cents.

Fabry was the most active issue among the oils, with turnover of 7,000 shares.

The stock closed 1 cent higher at 1-1/4. McLeod Oil sold at 4 cents at 26 cents on the final transaction.

Lorne Gold and Crown's Nest continued the interest on the curb, the former easing fractionally to 8 1/4 cents, while the latter was unchanged at 4 cents.

WHEAT DROPS FRACTIONALLY

Unfavorable Foreign News and Weak Markets React at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Oct. 22 (CP).—Abruptly reversing the trend of the last few days, wheat prices on the local grain exchange steadily worked lower throughout the morning.

Finally closing 1/8 to 1/2 below Wednesday's closing level. Negligible export business, unfavorable foreign news and weak Liverpool and Buenos Aires markets were the main causes of the decline.

Reports that 6,000,000 bushels of wheat had been shipped from Black Sea ports counterbalanced unofficial advice that France and Italy would modify their present quota limit on foreign wheat.

Drayage throughout, cash and coarse grains were unchanged.

FOR THE NONCE

The story of the origin of the phrase, "for the nonce," signifying "for the occasion," or "right now," "for the time being," reveals a surprising item in the theory of evolution of words and phrases.

the same principle which makes the child's "a napple," instead of "an apple." It goes back to the old phrase "for then once," the "then" being an obsolete form of "that," and the phrase indicating "for that once."

Hence "for the nonce," literally "for that one time."

A fat woman elbowed her way through the crowd, jabbing first one person and then another. Finally she gave one man nearby an unusually hard thump, and asked: "I say, does it make any difference which bus I take to Mount Royal Cemetery?"

"Not to me, madam," was the reply.

The employer was dealing with a long queue of boys who had appeared in response to an advertisement for an office boy. "Well, my boy," he said to one who looked a likely candidate, "you've seen that long queue of boys outside waiting for this job. Is there any particular reason why you should have the post?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply, "I'm the only boy who's brought his dinner."

News and Notes of the Interior

WORK ON HIGHWAY

REVELSTOKE—Almost one thousand men are engaged in pushing the Big Bend Highway section of the Transcanada Highway to completion. Several days ago 636 men were employed in relief camps by the Provincial Government north of Revelstoke, while some 260 are working on the Federal Government section north of Jordan. North of Revelstoke, about seventeen camps have been opened or ready to be opened. At the present time, while some work is in progress this side of Silver Tip Falls, eight miles from here, and this side of Nineteen Mile, most of the camps are between Downie and Goldstream.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

PRINCETON—Found in the bedroom of his home about a mile above Hedley between 4 and 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, Anton Winkler, one of the best-known of the Lower Valley pioneers, was presumed by a coroner's jury to have suffered accidental death at his own hands. The late Mr. Winkler was found by his son, Andy, not long after the rifle which caused his death had been discharged.

CANTALOUPE ARE FAILURE

OLIVER—"The cantaloupe crop results are disastrous," said D. McNair, sales manager of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, in addressing a meeting called by the local Co-operative to deal with the cantaloupe situation. "So far as we are concerned, the results are wholly due to the conditions which the cantaloupes arrived on the market and caused by something which has not been determinable."

FAIR IS SUCCESSFUL

ARMSTRONG—An operating profit of about $200 was shown in the statement of the Interior Provincial Fair Association directors' meeting held here this week. More than $750 was spent in permanent improvements and the showing was considered most satisfactory. The meeting complimented Mat Hassen, secretary-manager. The prospects were declared to be bright for a bigger and better fair in 1932.

THEATRE OWNER DIES

FERNIE—William Johnson, owner of motion picture theatres at Fernie and Kimberley, died suddenly on Wednesday evening. Mr. Johnson was around on his business on Wednesday afternoon, and not feeling well, returned to his house. As he did not improve toward evening, he went to bed early. Mrs. Johnson left him in bed a brief period and on returning found him dead.

HIXON CREEK GOLD

PRINCE GEORGE—Eric Hann, who in company with Joe Strbac has been working a placer claim on Hixon Creek for the past eleven years, recently brought in the best showing of gold ever seen in this city. There were approximately seventy-five ounces of the yellow metal. Hann says it was recovered in the washing of 368 yards of gravel, the labor in connection with which was performed by himself and his partner in 216 hours.

ORE ASSAYS WELL

REVELSTOKE—Assaying over $260 to the ton in silver, gold, copper and molybdenum, ore taken from a property owned by Joe

Mason and August Smith, thirty-five miles from Revelstoke in the Big Bend, is exciting some attention around town. The owners, who have eight claims, only a short distance from the Transcanada Highway, are doing development work, cross-cutting. They have uncovered three veins, but as yet have not determined their width.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED

WESTBANK—Thieves broke into Westbank postoffice. Letters were destroyed, being torn in an effort to find money. The telephone (pay station) toll box was broken open and money was taken. The office of the Co-operative Growers was also entered through a rear window. An attempt was made to open the safe, but failed. Articles are missing, but the extent of losses is not yet known.

INDIAN HEAVILY FINED

SMITHERS—Duncan David, a well-known Indian living on the Lake Kathryn Road, appeared in court on a charge laid by Game Guardian Mulrhea of killing a mountain sheep. The animal was killed among the lofty peaks of Hudson Bay Mountain back of Smithers, and it is stated that the Indians who are law-abiding and know the value of mountain sheep, were responsible for the information reaching the game warden. With all the evidence against him, Duncan entered a plea of guilty, and this brought down the minimum fine of $250 or one month in jail.

STORE CLERKS HERE URGED TO REGISTER FOR CIVIC ELECTION

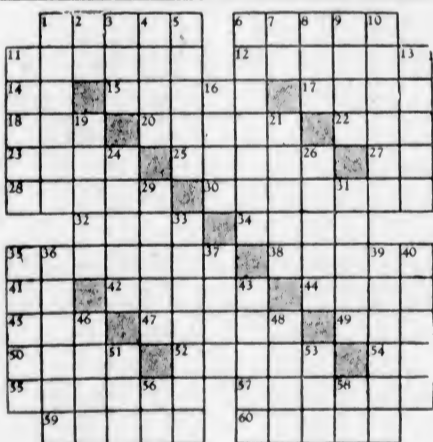

At a recent meeting of the Retail Clerks Association the importance of municipal registration was discussed. The possibility of questions arising at the approaching civic election, which would affect the interests and welfare of the store clerks of the city, was pointed out. A great number of male and female employees, who were entitled to be on the voters' list by virtue of having the tax deducted from their salaries, failed to apply for registration. As the list closes at the end of October, it was resolved that a special effort should be made to urge all qualified store clerks to take the necessary steps to get on the voters' list without delay.

ENDED LIFE WHILE MENTALLY DERANGED

That he had ended his life while in a state of mental derangement, was the finding of the coroner's jury which investigated the circumstances surrounding the death of Ralph Anthony on Monday evening last. Evidence was to the effect that he was a man of high integrity. He had been ailing recently.

She had just accepted him, and they were discussing the "might-have-beens," he inquired, "why didn't you accept that little donkey Smithers?" "Because," she answered dreamily, "I loved another."
